Irati Collection

The IRATI collection refers to the Navarre Forest, the largest beech and fir-trees forest in Europe, together with the Schwarzwald. Its trees from the Pyrenees Chain of Mountains, with their colors of gray, blue and walnut are considered as an ecological treasure.

The collection consists of ten finger-jointed pine profiles, chosen for their dimensions: three flat profiles of 17 mm high, available in several widths; then two architects´ profiles, plus two pyramid-like profiles, and finally, a 40x35mm American box and two wider curved profiles for bigger artworks.

Four finishes, with a regular mesh and with the appearance of the wood, were chosen, allowing IRATI to cover many needs, being traditional or modern.

The colors, deep and noble, in homage to these woods, may be combined with a great variety of interiors. The IRATI collection is easy to use, and very affordable economically, for a reliable and quality-oriented result.
